Travel Ambassadors meeting

I first gave each of the ambassadors a class each who they would be responsible for counting and sorting the WOW badges. The classes are in brackets after their names above.

As October is International Walk to School Month we thought about ways in which we could try and encourage more children to actively come to school. More walking buses, running or jogging bus were suggested. A prize for the best class was another thought, a chart for each child to record on. This is already done with the badges and WOW. A poster with a rhetorical question and post-it notes to answer the question similar to what is done already for the Values and Science quiz.

A new theme needs to be decided for the WOW badges for 2016/17, the following were some suggestions:

Noah friendship

Izzy save the environment

Stevie monkeys

Amber endangered animals

I explained to the children the various other responsibilities they would have. The year 4s will have pedestrian training later in the year, and it was decided that the JTAs could help with the training. The younger children need to look at a parked car and discuss how they would know if it is safe to cross behind it, and also to look at the sizes. To help with this they have been given a road safety quiz to see what their knowledge is.
